DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-29 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as unpatentable over Graves(US Pat. No:6,454,173) in view of Herman(US Pat. No:6,341,353) in view of Gephart(US Pat. No: 6,339,766) and further in view of Cohen(US Pat. No: 6,422,462).
4. As per claims 1-29 Graves teaches a smart card technology utilizing a secure intelligent electronic card to perform e-commerce purchases(Abstract) and which holds algorithms in the integrated circuit which provides a variable set up structure that can be dynamically programmed for each unique application(Abstract)(col 3 line 45-col 5 line 35)(Fig 2).Herman teaches smart receipts which electronically document a transaction and maintain a connection between parties following an online transaction(Abstract)(Figs 1-19) which can be personalized to an individual buyer's preferences(Abstract) and that electronically document a transaction between parties(col 1 lines 55-col 2 line 28) which can be used to ascertain amounts spent.Gephart teaches use of a limited use account number(Abstract)(Fig 4/18/16/40) and Cohen teaches use of credit cards by cardholders only at designated vendors(Abstract)(Fig 1)(col 2 lines 31-63) which are even disposable.It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine Graves in view of Herman in view of Gephart and further in view of Cohen to teach the above.The motivation to combine Graves in view of Herman is to teach an electronic means to keep track of expenditures made in the form of a smart receipt as enunciated by Herman(col 1 lines 39-45).The motivation to combine Graves in view of Herman and further in view of Gephart is to teach a system for executing electronic transactions that introduces a level of security beyond the use of tradition encryption technology as enunciated by Gephart(col 2 lines 18-30).The motivation to combine Graves in view of Herman in view of Gephart and further in view of Cohen is to teach a system for the use of disposable, customer-defined,customiozed credit cards as delineated by Cohen(col 1 lines 47-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 USC 112(2nd paragraph) for failing to specify and distinctly claim what the applicant regards is the invention.

7. Claims 1-29 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, (1st paragraph), as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.
